GLADIOLUS SEED

We Handle Special Hand Pollenized Seed GROWING GLADIOLUS FROM SEED

There is no class of plants that is so susceptible to improvement by hybridization as the gladiolus. Every effort is crowned with success. In a bed no matter how large no two will be alike, all will be beautiful, and some a wonderful improvement over any existing variety.

Many seed will flower the first season, and from our hand pollenized seed you are certain to get some remarkably fine varieties and that supreme pleasure which comes from producing a new creation in the gladiolus world.

Hand pollenized seed $2.00 per package of 200 seeds.

Self pollenized seed 50c per pkt., about 1,000 seeds: 3 pkts. for $1.25.

SUNNY SLOPE GARDEN'S NEW INTRODUCTIONS FOR 1932

Ivory Queen. (In.D.) Strong, vigorous bush, very prolific, large blooms of 10 or more inches are produced.

The flower has beautiful and striking formation. Very deep and fleshy, and of the purest ivory white. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.00.

Lavender Lass. (In. D.) Handsome light lavender with a pink tinge, with lighter reverse. Large flowers, perfectly set on stiff stems making it a good cut flower. Roots, $3.00; Plants, $1.50.

Don Mike. (D) This New introduction we are offering for the first time. Is a deep yellow, with threads of red sometimes in the petals, perfected in form and very prolific in blooms and is a wonderful grower. Great attraction in the Los Angeles Show. Good cut variety. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.00.

Mignon. (F.D.) A fine Salmon and Rose Formal Decorative. Very attractive coloring and good stem, foliage and habits. Is a very fine cut flower. It is prolific and grows to 5 feet in height. It has won in the shows and helped win in our basket prizes. You will like it in your gardens. As a cut flower it is in great demand by the florist. Roots, $3.00.

New Glory. (Sem. C.) This Dahlia is all that its name indicates. Is one of the most striking Hybrid Cactus Dahlias I have ever seen. It has been exhibited in many shows and has won many prizes, and is a constant attraction at every show. More words of praise have been given this Dahlia by the dahlia loving public than any other Dahlia I grow. It is large, standing on a strong stiff stem, vigorous bushes, free bloomer. A deep Ox Blood red with tips of petals blazed with white. The petals have a charming quilled effect near the points, and must be seen to appreciate it. As a cut flower, it commands the highest price by the florist, and it is in great demand. It was placed on Dahlia Roll of Honor, 1932. We have kept the price within the reach of all lovers of the most beautiful. Tubers, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Queen of the Snows. (In.D.) A large snow white that immediately attracts attention. It was a constant attraction in our gardens all summer. Every one that sees it wants it. Large fine bush, strong vigorous plant with fine foliage and stiff stems which hold the large blooms erect. Winning first prize in a vase of 12 blooms of the best California introductions. It was given second prize as the second best flower in the Los Angeles Show the same time.

Pacific Sunset. (F.D.) This great Dahlia was staked in our gardens for three years as A-4, and termed, "Watchung Sunrise 2nd." It is a seedling from this great dahlia. It won the Bronze medal this year in the great show of the Pasadena Horticultural Association. It resembles its parent very much. It is a large Decorative of Golden amber, with Cadmium Orange shadings, giving it the resemblance of the Pacific Sunsets that are so gorgeous in this fair land at times. As the flower ages it take on different shadings, so that a bouquet of the blooms has all the shades of a gorgeous sunset. The plant is strong and vigorous. Flowers set well on the side of magnificent stem which is stiff and wiry. Very prolific. It won first special prize for the best seedling at Burbank show this fall. Roots, $10.00; Plants, $5.00.

Robin Red Breast. (In.C.) Another introduction of striking formation, of a scarlet red. An incurved Cactus. Tall bushes, good stems, prolific bloomer. Flowers are better later in the season. Known under A-2 in the garden. A third year seedling. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Silver Cloud. (In.D.) Another wonderful creation. Very large silvery white with pink shading to almost Mauve Lavender at the centers. Its form is almost Hybrid Dec., the petals twist enough to make the bloom most graceful. Large blooms on strong stiff stems, bushes tall and vigorous and insect proof. Is a prolific bloomer from early summer to late in the season. Roots, $3.00; Plants, $2.00.

NEW AND RECENT INTRODUCTIONS

A. O. Kenny (Dec.) (Darling.) Large flowers of perfect form and great depth, carried on good stems. Color a rich bronze buff shade of one tone, but with the center tinted with bronze. Plants grow medium height and are very free flowering, by a class in itself. This dahlia is on the Honor Roll. Roots, $3.00; Plants, $1.50.

Amy Martin Gardin. (In.D.) (Chapman.) New 1931 Introduction. A profuse bloomer, an excellent keeper, strong stems hold the blooms erect facing you, foliage resistant to insects, flowers average 9 inches or more. The color is a deep Tyrian rose, reverse lighter, the petals are wavy and twist slightly. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.00.

Aztec Glory. Flowers are of a rich clear golden yellow, without tints or blends. One of the "big fellows." Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Aladdin. (F.D.) (Newsom-1931.) A most beautiful tall new variety of pale, yellow gold, shading to a deeper gold and amber at the tips of the petals. The stems are like canes and hold the large blooms absolutely erect, so they look one squarely in the face. Price per strong root, $7.50; Plants, $3.00.

Ali Baba. (In.D.) (Newsom-1931.) This new introduction is of a deep rich red, with an orange suffusion, each petal being tipped and veined with gold. The flowers have great substance and depth, and each gold-tipped petal adds a beautiful touch. Stems are perfect, stiff and strong, holding the large, deep blooms above the medium tall plant. Ali Baba will be a treasure in your garden. Price per Strong Root, $7.50; Plants, $3.00.

Betty Marilyn. (Crites.) (In.D.) Is an informal Decorative or a Semi-Cactus. A very large, thick flower. One of those spikey-petaled ones, larger in every way. Color is a beautiful pinkish lavender. Tall plants, large foliage. Strong, healthy growth and always full of blooms. A favorite. Strong Roots, each, $7.50; Plants, $3.00.

Bronze Bedder. (F.D.) Wonderful for baskets. Color rich golden bronze, darker in the center. Plants are medium in height and always full of blooms. Strong Roots, 50c.

Beauty Gem. (D.) One of the attractions in our garden. Wonderful cut flower. Color flesh rosy pink. Good in every way. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.00.

Broekton Beauty (Carver.) A very large flower. A profuse bloomer of great depth and size. Color is a pinkish lavender shading to creamy white center, with reverse of petals pinkish lavender. A wonderful keeper with a fine stiff stem. Roots, $2.00.

Champoege. (F.D.) (Crites-Kemp.) The color effect of this dahlia is like a sunrise with the base of the petals an amber gold shading to a bright rose pink near the outside of the flower, then back to golden amber. Roots, $10.00; Plants, $5.00.

Chas G. Reed. (F.D.) (Ballay.) Color is a purple red—a lively shade not far from crimson. This variety is unusually large and is held upright on a perfect stem. Big, broad petals, a deep full center, and the great profusion of bloom make it one of the best. Roots, $4.00; Plants, $2.00.

Conquistador. (Hyb. Cac.) Soft creamy yellow shading to a glowing pink at the base of the petals. Built on a massive plan. Extraordinarily tall and flowers can be cut with 4-foot stems. The bloom is in proportion. On Dahlia Roll of Honor. Roots, $3.50.

Copper Chief. (D.) A real copper with rose reverse. Wonderful color. High class dahlia. Roots, $1.00; Plants, 50c.

Calumet. One of the finest cut flower varieties we have in the garden. They are as regular as a seven foot fence, and just covered with large, long-stemmed, perfectly formed flowers of Chamois and gold. Calumet is exceptionally sturdy and easy to grow, and we take great pleasure in recommending it. Roots, $3.00; Plants, $2.00.

Cora Butterworth. This is a huge Dahlia, deep cream color. Won sweepstakes at the New York show at the Madison Square Garden in 1929. A prize winner at most recent shows. Roots, $2.50; Plants, $1.25.

Clara M. Haas. (D.) Here is a dahlia that has been greatly admired during the past three years. The petals are very broad. It is only a medium size plant, but literally covered with blooms. The color is a very refined and delicate pink, deepening as the flower matures. A plant of this variety is a picture in itself. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.00.

Canary Cup. (In.D.) A very large rich yellow, of good keeping quality and grown on long stems. Very attractive. Roots, $2.50; Plants, $1.50.

Donald. G. (D.) This is one of the unusual dahlias in form and color. A deep rosy maroon, with yellowish buff reverse. Petals so turn and twist as to reveal both colors. Strong and vigorous. Fine grower. Strong Roots, $5.00.

Doris Fellows. (D.) A giant yellow with shadings of rose gives this beautiful dahlia a different appearance. An early free bloomer, on stiff stems. Very good Roots, $3.00; Plants, $1.50.

Dr. John H. Carman. (Dixon.) (D.) A large, deep, broad petaled tyrian rose flower tipped petunia and silver on stiff and heavy stems 11 to 22 inches long. An exceptionally strong and vigorous grower. The foliage is strong and tough. Flowering habit very good. It is a Roll of Honor Dahlia and a certificate winner at the Trial Gardens. Tubers, $3.00; Plants, $1.50.

Dwight W. Morrow. (Dahliadel.) (In.D.) One red Dahlia that is admired and liked by all who view its gigantic informal decorative blooms. A rich, deep cardinal red in color, it is equally distinctive and effective under either natural or artificial light. Blooms 10 by 6 inches are easily attained and if you have a penchant for growing exhibition blooms it will hold its own with any Dahlia we have seen. The plants are all that can be desired, being medium to tall growing, with rich green foliage. Here is a fine Dahlia, and one that is sure to make a name for itself on the exhibition table as well as in the garden. Roots, each, $10.00; Plants, each, $5.00.

Ewing Young. (Crites.) (F.D.) Extra large blooms in a color rather hard to describe. Orange red and yellow blended giving the effect of being copper colored. Stems are stiff. Free bloomer. The petals are rolled inward at the edges on the order of those little French Stella Dahlias. Altogether different and what most growers are looking for. A seedling of Jersey's Beacon. Strong Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Eliza London Shepard. (In.D.) (Peacock.) A blended golden orange apricot, making a one-tone spectacular flower. Blooms of good substance with full centers, are borne on long, stiff stems. Strong upright grower and free bloomer. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Eshcol. (Newsom.) A most gorgeous introduction. Eshcol is a beauty. In color it is a most strikingly handsome, dark, rich, velvety, reddish bronze, deeper by far than Amun Ra, and reminds one of all the deeper Autumn shades on maple trees. The reverse of the petals is a dark reddish, wine-color maroon. The flowers are held erect on good stems above a medium tall, healthy bush. There is no other dahlia with the colors of Eshcol, and it will be a fine addition to any collection. Strong Tubers, $10.00; Plants, $5.00.

Eugenia. (H.C.) A new Barker Dahlia, in an old rose shading with amber, a very upright grower. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

El Rey. (Cordes.) (In.D.) A very large flower in rich salmon and orange shades. A strong vigorous grower. Very productive with an excellent stem and habit. A Roll of Honor Dahlia of great merit. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

H. R. CHAPMAN'S NEW INTRODUCTION, 1931

Frances Earl. (F.D.) (Chapman.) Rich deep Rhodamine Purple, blooms face up and out, excellent stems; blooms average nine or more inches in diameter and four inches deep without forcing. Color does not fade in the hottest sun. Low grower, a most prolific bloomer the entire season. Roots $7.50; Plants, $3.00.

Frank Miller. (Burch.) (F.D.) An especially fine new Dahlia of clear lemon yellow. Giant size and beautiful formation. Sturdy long stems. An excellent grower and producer. A prize winner at all shows. Roots, $4.00; Plants, $1.50.

Florence Flores. (Burch.) Maroon is the nearest to black that any color can become without becoming black. Semi-cactus with a wire stem; a perfect commercial cut flower. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Frank Galvin. (In.D.) (Galvin.) Rosy lavender. One of the attractions in the garden. Strong stiff stem and bush. A new introduction. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Mrs. Frank Galvin. (F.D.) Bright sulphur yellow with snow white tips. One of the most attractive dahlias in the garden. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Frank Pelicano, Jr. A dahlia that can be grown to an immense size. In color, amber shading to gold in the center—like a glorious sunburst. The immense blooms have deep petals and are held high on long stems above a tall, strong growing bush. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Fair Elaine. (H.C.) (Ballay.) Delicate old rose. An extra good variety that closely resembles the American cactus type in formation. Roots, $2.50; Plants, $1.75.

Golden Goblin. (D.) A really wonderful new variety, a great exhibition bloom, a brilliant rich old gold on splendid stems. Roots, $10.00.

Golden Girl. A huge Cactus in a pure golden yellow. Always full of bloom, strong, healthy plants, always attracts attention, in a class by itself. A basket of these golden beauties was one of the attractions at the last show of the Columbia Valley Dahlia Society at Portland. Strong Roots, $5.00.

Grace Curling. (D.) It is a glorious decoration of very large size, imposing and beautiful in form and color. White at base, then changing to lilac pink and rose. Huge broad florets, bluntly tapering and tastefully notched at tips. Perfect stems, long, bearing the big bloom well above the foliage. We know of no Dahlia that is more charming than this imported beauty. Stock very limited. Tubers, $4.00; Plants, $2.00.

Golden Sonne. (Cactus.) Holland introduction of intrinsic beauty. Mentioned in American Home Roll of Honor. Tubers, $1.50; Plants, $1.00.

Helen Ivins. (F.&M.) This attractive Formal Decorative is a lively orchid lavender or deep orchid, holding its color throughout the season. It is a very free bloomer on good stems with tough leathery foliage. Tubers, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Hawaiian Nights. (In.D.) (Newsom.) One of our best 1930 introductions. It is a most intense scarlet, with an orange suffusion. The reverse of the petals is striped with gold. The blossoms are huge and very deep, and the stems are stiff and strong. The foliage is very finely cut, resembling the Hawaiian tree ferns in its beauty. The bushes are vigorous and of medium height. Priced per strong Tubers, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Judge Leon McCord. (D.) (Bessie Boston.) This is a large flower and is produced on a splendid stem on an enormous bush. The color a deep shade of old gold with a reverse of old rose. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

June Justice. (Success.) (D.) This very unusual colored Dahlia has been the center of attraction in the garden and show-room; the strong growing plant is absolutely insect proof. It made good at the American Dahlia Society official trial garden at Storrs, Conn., in 1929, which proves that it measures up to the elite of the Dahlia world. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Jim Moore. (In.D.) Primrose yellow shading to gold tints and flushes of salmon. Very handsome. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Jullinar. (F.D.) (Newsom-1931.) Named for the heroine of that fascinating tale of "Jullinar of the Sea." A lovely new dahlia of the softest pastel shadings. Lavender, heavily striped and shaded with pink, darker and larger than Barbara Wear. Jullinar bears immense flowers on perfect stems five feet long, with hardly any disbudding. The very strong bushes are tall, and covered at all times with these beautiful blooms. Everyone likes Jullinar, and I am sure you will also. Price per strong Root, $10.00; Plants, $5.00.

Jersey's Glory. (F.D.) Flowers are large and of good form, well placed on stems. Color is yellow hue of orange. Free bloomer, robust grower. Roots, $4.00; Plants, $2.00.

Kathleen Norris. (F.&M.) (In.D.) A bloom of gigantic proportions. We believe we can conscientiously state it is the greatest pink Decorative Dahlia in commerce today. Color a true rose pink. Great bloomer and excellent keeper. Roots, $4.00; Plants, $2.00.

King Midas. (Peacock.) (In.D.) This is a rich golden yellow. The flowers are large and freely produced on good stems. Roots, $4.00; Plants, $2.00.

Minnie Eastman. (In.D.) Size 8"x4". Ht. 6 ft. Color, bright flame tinting to yellow at the base of the petals. A free bloomer on long erect stems. Roots, $2.50; Plants, $1.75.

Mildred Brooks Hoover. (H.D.) (Broomall.) The originator considers this one of the best Dahlias in his gardens as the color, Spinel-red, is so different. A most distinct and refined flower, of large size and splendid form. Roots, $3.00.

Mardi Gras. (Diggle.) A magnificent new Decorative of an unusual burgundy wine color, very alive and rich. Does not burn in sun. Won Garden and Home Builder Achievement Medal at Hartford for Best New Dahlia. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Monmouth Champion. (F.D.) Size 12"x3½". Ht. 4½ ft. Color, brilliant orange flame; one of the largest, finest and most brilliantly colored Dahlias. Plants, $5.00.

Nordic. (S.C.) Light copper with a light rose reverse and slightly suffused with rose, of enormous size, giving the impression of an incurved cactus from which class it is not far removed. The plant is a tall robust grower, holding the flowers up on long, leafless stems. Plants, $1.75.

Nova. (F.D.) Bright old rose of the true old fashioned shade. Large perfectly formed flowers on the strongest upright stems are produced in profusion. Formation of this entrancing dahlia is quite regular with the broad heavy petals slightly fluted and folding back well against the stem. It is an excellent cut flower, lasting well and gracing any occasion. Roll of Honor dahlia in 1929. Plants, $2.50.

Orange Beacon. (D.) A medium sized flower in bitter-sweet orange, $1.00.

Oriental Beauty. (Barker.) For sheer beauty and perfection of form, stem and foliage this is the queen of dahlias. A clear, brilliant rose pink, incurved form. Blooms average seven to eight inches but can be grown much larger. Winner the Garden and Home Builder (American Home) medal. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Oriente. (F.D.) (Newsom-1931.) Oriental in color; rich, warm tones of deep glowing orange, and amber at the tips of the petals. Borne proudly on the ends of long rigid stems, very tall and vigorous. Oriente will delight you. Roots, $10.00; Plants, $5.00.

Pansy G. White. (Semi-Cactus.) Gorgeous clear shade of gold and best of its kind. It has not the slightest tendency to fade or burn, a strong, healthy grower, free and continuous bloomer. Large blooms held on long, stiff stems look you in the face and like its garden mate, Kentucky Red, it has the same insect resisting habits. A difficult one to beat in shows. The keeping qualities unsurpassed. Roots, $7.50; Plants, $3.75.

Robert E. Lee. (S.C.) Size 10"x5". Height 5 feet. Color, bright luminous cardinal red; reflex, lighter. Not only a 1929 Roll of Honor Dahlia, but in the list that made good in 1930. It has never been beaten on the exhibition table and stands in a class by itself as the best red semi-cactus for exhibition, garden and cut flowers during the entire season. It is not only a brilliant glowing red, but it does not burn or fade. Cane stiff stem. The plant is a strong vigorous grower, always healthy and immune to insects. The favorite red. Field-grown Roots, $7.50; Plants, $3.50.

Rising Mars. (Simmons.) A hybrid cactus that for 5 years has been winning awards at the New England Dahlia Society shows. It has won seven first prizes, two silver medals, and the Darling Cup. It was placed on the Honor Roll. An abundant bloomer, early and late. Natural flowers with a uniform size of nine inches. Its color, pomegranate purple. Needs no pruning. The strong stems are long and slender. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Sunset Trail. (In.D.) The brightest flower in the garden. Brilliant Chinese scarlet tipped gold, with golden reverse. Giant blooms and many of them on a medium plant. Strong, healthy growth. Long stems, stiff. A very full Decorative, holding the size all through the season. A valuable addition to any collection of Dahlias. Strong Roots, $7.50; Plants, $3.00.

Shahrazad. (In.D.) (Newsom-1931.) Occupies the same position in a deep pink as Mrs. Alfred B. Seal and Prince of Persia do in their shades. A gorgeous new variety that cannot fittingly be described. The flowers are easily grown to a foot in diameter, with great substance and depth, and are carried erect on rigid stems. We call Shahrazad our deep pink Jane Cowl, and it resembles this beautiful dahlia in many ways. The bush is tall and exceptionally vigorous. Stock very limited. Price per Root, $15.00; Plants, $7.50.

Sinbad of the Sea. (F.D.) (Newsom-1931.) One of the most popular. A huge, perfectly formed flower of vivid scarlet. A free bloomer that needs very little disbudding. The medium tall bushes are always covered with large, perfect blooms on stiff stems. The flowers look you right in the face, and last for days when cut. Price per Root, $10.00; Plants, $5.00.

Star of Bethlehem. (S.C.) Semi-Cactus. Pure glistening white. Very attractive and good in every way. Roots, $3.00; Plants, $1.50.

Seal's Californian. (In.D.) One of the best in the Autumn colors. A fine exhibition flower in the garden. This variety attracted a great deal of attention. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Thomas A. Edison. (F.D.) (Dahliadel.) Color is a royal purple. The staghorn petal formation, the dark green insect resistant foliage, the cane-stiff stems, and its thrifty growing habit, leave nothing to be desired. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Treasure Island. (F.D.) (Dahliadel.) A friendly, cheerful sort of Dahlia that one likes, because of its distinctive gold and rose coloring and clean cut form. A wonderful cut flower variety. Roots, $2.50; Plants, $1.25.

Valeska. (D.) Deep Lilac. The lilac shade slightly deepens at the center. We know of no other dahlia like it. The immense blooms have a deep rose-like formation with petals slightly curled. The stem is first class, and the growth of the plant luxuriant in the production of fine blooms. Roots, $2.00; Plants, $1.00.

Valentino. (D.) (Boston.) Salmon pink shading to cream at the center. A beautiful dahlia with a famous name. The general habit of growth is the best, and it is most useful for cutting. Roots, $3.50; Plants, $1.75.

Wandel's Red Bird. (Benedict & Corbett.) (F.D.) Large flowering, brilliant spectrum red with light silvery reverse. Small yellow florets scattered throughout blooms. A tall robust plant with excellent habits, foliage and stems. A seedling of Jersey Beacon. A basket of Red Birds won first prize for effect at the Atlantic City Show, September, 1931. One of the Roll of Honor Dahlias in 1931. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Watchung Maroon. (F.D.) A large maroon Dahlia almost black. Very large flowers, resembling Fort Washington, but much darker. Recommended for either garden or exhibition, due to its size, stem and rich color. Tubers, $3.50; Plants, $1.75.

Watchung Wonder. (F.D.) One of the richest colored red Dahlias. A magnificent Dahlia in appearance and growing habits. It was a consistent winner in specimen classes during the past season. Tubers, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.

Waldheim Sunshine. (In.D.) Color a true deep yellow with darker shading. Form very attractive having long wavy petals. Extra large. Twelve to fourteen inches in diameter. Free bloomer and strong grower. Tubers, $2.50; Plants, $1.25.

Watchung Sunrise. (F.D.) Strong healthy plant of gold with pink suffusion. Stems unusually good. Centers high and well formed. $1.50.

Will Rogers. (Eastman.) (F.D.) No better Dahlia. Bicolored decorative. The beautiful blending of bright lavender and white caught the eye and held the attention of every visitor to our gardens. Flowers are very large and are held well above the foliage of the medium high, wide spreading plant. Early and very prolific of bloom. You will like this beauty. Roots, $7.50; Plants, $5.00.

Yellow Beauty. (Wood), 1929. A yellow dahlia resembling Jersey's Beauty, with similar characteristics of growth. Good commercial and exhibition dahlias with slender, but stiff stems, always holding flowers erect. Roots, $5.00; Plants, $2.50.
